Magnetic Power - Influences all aspects of life

Magnetism is a general-acting force. Its effect extends to everything – particularly humans, all animals and plants.

Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

Dear Customers,
More than 20 years ago I discovered the fascinating effect of magnets. Over time, this led to the creation of magnetic jewellery collections and wellness products. In this catalogue, you can look forward to effective jewellery, beneficial accessories and many complementary holistic products for health and wellbeing.

Yours
Dr. h. c.
Petra Döring

The power of magnets determines our daily lives. In nature, for example, birds and whales orient themselves to the magnetic field of the Earth; magnetic fields are also an integral part of the human organism.

The force of the Earth's magnetic field cannot be:

SEEN
TASTED
FELT

Nevertheless it has a strong effect, for example in loudspeakers (allowing beautiful music to reach us) or in modern examination methods such as with the MRI technique (which enables diagnosis without the use of x-ray).

Strikingly effective

Negative ions instinctively do many people good - we gather this knowledge in our jewellery and accessories, close to the body, close to the skin. Combined with the power of magnets and sparkling crystals, you always have your beneficial companion with you, even during sports – thanks to the skin-friendly silicone in which quartz crystals and minerals are incorporated. So you can recharge and feel invigorated wherever you are.

What is CBD?

Hemp is one of the oldest and most useful plants of humankind and offers many different possible uses. The Cannabinoid CBD has, beside many valuable proteins, terpenes and further active substances, the second most frequently used ingredient of the hemp plant.

CB1 CB2

CBD affects the endogenous human cannabinoid system. This is part of the nervous system and has receptors on the cell surface to which CBD can dock. These receptors regulate numerous biological processes in the body.

Wellness products with CBD

Vitalix full spectrum hemp extracts contain the full CBD plant power. They are rich in terpenes and phyto-cannabinoids, which provide a strong entourage effect. This means that the interaction of the contained plant substances has a higher biological activity than the pure substance itself.
